

WILSON OPPONENTS WERE DECISIVELY BEATEN BY TWO HEAVY TEST VOTES TAKEN IN THE HOUSE

PRESIDENT'S POLICY IS ENDORSED IN THE FIRST CLASHES BY VOTES OF 256-150 AND 271-138

Washington, March 7.—President Wilson's stand that congress shall not advise Americans to abandon their rights to travel the seas on merchant ships armed for defense in accordance with international law, was endorsed in the house today by two heavy test votes on the much discussed McElmore resolution. By substantial majorities the administration forces defeated attempts to amend the resolution to the liking of the president's opponents and put it squarely before the house without amendment for a vote under a special rule at the end of four hours' debate.

About six o'clock this evening the administration forces will move to table the McElmore resolution and the heavy votes they polled in the two preliminary tests indicate that they will kill it by a substantial majority.

Once tabled, the resolution will have gone the way of the Gore resolution in the senate and a majority of congress will have been placed on record before the world as demonstrating that it does not endorse the dissensions against the president's foreign policy.

With the agitation finally disposed of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing will resume the submarine negotiations with Germany.

In quick succession today the house rejected the proposal to allow Anti-administration amendments to the McElmore resolution and then adopted the special rule for consideration of the resolution itself routing the opposition by votes of 256 to 160 and 271 to 138 respectively.

Immediately after adoption of the rule debate began on the resolution itself, Chairman Flood, of the Foreign affairs committee, moving to table it.

Assembled For All Day Fight

Promptly at 11 o'clock the house assembled for the all-day fight of the administration forces to kill the McElmore resolution to warn Americans off armed ships of the European belligerents. Speaker Clark was in the chair and acting Chairman Poy of the rules committee was in his seat ready to submit the special rule under which the debate will proceed. As soon as the journal had been read Mr. Poy offered the privileged resolution containing the special rule.

Mr. Poy asked unanimous consent for ninety minutes debate on the rule. There was no objection and the debate began. Mr. Poy took the floor to open the fight.

The first outburst of applause from the floor came at the outset of Mr. Poy's speech when he said:

"All the imps of Hell never devised a more infamous lie than the declaration that has been made that President Wilson wants war."

Representative Campbell, of Kansas, Republican member of the rules committee, announced when Mr. Poy concluded that if the motion to close debate on the rule were defeated he would offer a substitute for the McElmore resolution which would be a direct warning to Americans to keep off armed ships.

"If this rule is defeated," declared Representative Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, an administration leader, "you will not only send joy to the hearts of people in a foreign capital, but you stab your own people in the back."

At the end of the debate of an hour and a half on the rule, a vote on a motion for "The previous question" a motion to end the debate on the rule itself, was in order. That, under the plan of the leaders would be the first roll call.

Then a vote on the adoption of the rule itself was in order, making a second roll call.

The adoption of the rule meant four hours' debate on the Mc-

Audience Armed With Lunch Boxes, Milk Bottles and Opera Glasses To Hear Sensational Debate In House

Washington, March 7.—Prospects of a sensational debate attracted a record crowd to the house side of the capitol long before the doors opened. Men, women and children came ready for a long stay. Lunch boxes, milk bottles, opera glasses and books formed the principal part of their equipment. When the house galleries were thrown open there was a rush and scramble and the galleries were filled within five minutes.

Lemore resolution itself with another roll call at the close on a motion for disposition of the resolution. This generally was expected to be a motion by Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee to table it.

The expectation of three roll calls was based on the assumption that the rule would be carried and take into consideration any unexpected parliamentary tactics from the opposition.

Mr. Poy attacked the McElmore resolution at the outset. "It means in effect that if an American disregards a warning, that the United States government will fold its hands," said he.

"Is there a single red blooded citizen in this house or this country who wants to do that. It charged that the president wants war. All the imps of hell never devised a more infamous charge. No man since Abraham Lincoln has gone through as much as the president has gone through in the last six months. He has tried to preserve peace. He would not sacrifice a single life to make himself president for lifetime. He has the support of both sides of this chamber."

Applause on both sides of the chamber followed his remarks. Representative Campbell, Republican, declared:

"There is no great question of national rights involved in this issue," he declared. "Nor is there any great crisis involving the honor of the United States at this time. Does any one contend that an American citizen has a right to travel on an armed cruiser of a nation at war?"

"The president is asking congress to assume the diplomatic function and declare to the world its citizens have the right of taking passage on the armed merchantmen of belligerents. This house is today confronted with the responsibility of the right to save diplomatic function which is solely the right of the executive."

"The question ought not to have been brought here. Now it is here, vote squarely on a resolution warning citizens of the danger they are in, when they get on armed ships of a belligerent."

Representative Harrison, of Mississippi, Democrat, took up the debate for the administration: "This is not a question for us to divide upon as Democrats or Republicans," said he. "It is a question of America first. It is a question whether you shall rise above narrow partisanship and stand for the American government. The only safe course for us to pursue is to follow the rights of neutrals under international law. If we allow one column to be taken from the structure of international law, we endanger the whole foundation of our government."

"The question today," he concluded, "is whether you are with the president or against him. If this rule is defeated you will certainly send joy to the hearts of people in a foreign capital, but you stab your own people in the back." Representative Chipfield, Republican, of Illinois, declared he favored standing by the president.

Representative Cantrell, Democrat, of Kentucky, member of the rules committee, said he would vote for the rule because only by its adoption could the house put itself on record on the warning resolution issue.

"I thank God that President Wilson is the chief executive of the nation, now," he declared amid Democratic applause. "To those who may say that this action involves a question of war, I say that today's action which we propose is the only way to guarantee peace, and an honorable peace is what we all desire."

Now For The Salad Hat--Will Be In Style This Spring With Carrots And Potatoes

Your new spring hat, if it has style, will be not so much a hat as a receptacle for carrots, string beans, parsnips and other garden products. One may also wear celery or tomatoes if one chooses. That's because the buckster but is to be a great favorite this season.

To get the proper fruit salad effect an untrimmed frame should be used and your favorite fruits or vegetables may be grouped about it as fancy dictates. The charm of the new style lies largely in its possibilities as a means of diversion and amusement in the evening. With a little study and care you may cultivate a neat gift in this innocent and harmless way. Spend a few hours at it every afternoon. You may be able to interest the neighbors, solicit orders among them for stylish fruit-laden hats and send your son through college.

It is probable that if this fruit and vegetable idea is favorably received, milliners will take heart and offer us something even more attractive. The decorative detail of the hat may be made useful as well as ornamental. It is suggested that they be furnished in such a way as to in-

CLUBS REQUIRED TO TAKE OUT LIQUOR LICENSE

Columbus, O., March 7.—Private clubs or lodges dealing in liquor to members on the coupon or "Charge account" systems must take out a license under the state liquor license law, Attorney General Turner ruled today. "Locker clubs" do not need a license, he held. The attorney general's opinion will have the effect of compelling scores of fraternal clubs which heretofore have never had state licenses to be licensed. Payment of the $1,000 fee for this will be impossible with a large proportion, it is said, and may have to dispense with serving liquor. Clubs which are licensed also will be subject to the Sunday and midnight closing law.

The three classes of organizations which the attorney general held must be licensed are:

Clubs selling coupons of cards which may be exchanged for liquor.

Clubs which have annual dues and allow members to order liquor chargeable to their accounts.

Clubs which use the ticket and coupon system, but serve only members.

Locker clubs, which the attorney general holds needs not be licensed, operate on a principle by which members own their individual supplies of liquor which are kept on ice subject to their call. In these cases it is declared the liquor is actually the property of each member and not of the club. The attorney general lays down the general principle, that when liquor is the property of the club or lodge as a whole and is dispensed to a member either on previous payment or promise to pay later, the transaction is such as to require a state license.

In another opinion to Prosecutor Perry Smith of Muskingum county, the attorney general declared that a restaurant operates in connection with a saloon may be kept open Sunday provided it is closed off from the bar.

Washington, March 7.—Representative Robert N. Page, of North Carolina, a brother of Ambassador Page at London, has announced in a letter to his constituents that he will not be a candidate for re-election because he disagrees with the president in the submarine controversy.

Reports today that other southern congressmen planned to follow Page's example could not be confirmed.

Fronie Hollingsworth is again in the toils having been arrested Monday night with John Bush, a railroad laborer, who accused her of robbing him of fifty cents.

Bush and Fronie were fined $10 each in police court Tuesday morning. The evidence showed that Bush had been seeking a lodging place for the night. Fronie overheard his inquiry and offered to direct him to a place. When he exhibited two twenty-five cent pieces, all the money he had, she, according to his story, grabbed the coins and ran down the railroad cut and into Marshall's saloon, reporting to the crowd inside that he was trying to cut her. He said Bill Washington came out and attacked him with a knife. Washington, who was also a witness in the case, denied having attacked Bush, claiming instead that Bush drew a knife on him.

Plain drunks giving the names of J. A. Bradshaw, Mack Chapman, Lafayette Brooks and Ed Fogarty were fined $5 each but the former's fine was suspended, pending good behavior.

STRANGE OLD MAN KIDNAPS BABY, ABANDONS IT ON A DOOR STEP

Better keep watch on your babies!

There may be a kidnapper abroad in the city, as is evidenced by an exciting incident that happened this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Adams, 1645 Offshore street.

Mrs. Adams reported to the police that a well dressed elderly looking man had hurriedly pushed a baby carriage up against the step of her front porch and lifting a small child by the arms placed the tot on the porch, he holding or out Offshore street. Mrs. Adams said when she hurried to the front part of the home the strange child was standing at a low window fronting on the porch and which was open, playing with her 16-months old baby, Dorothy, and her four year old daughter, Louise. The child appeared to be about eighteen months old. Though the woman, who claimed the child said she lived only a square away, Mrs. Adams did not remember ever having seen her before.

Some think the man was trying to kidnap the baby, but becoming alarmed by pursuit hurriedly abandoned the little one.

Floyd Adams, oldest son of the Adams household, had just finished breakfast about 9:30 o'clock and started from the kitchen through the house when he saw a man hurriedly push a baby carriage up against the porch step and lifting a child from it deposited the infant on the porch. The next instant the man dashed from the premises running so rapidly that he had completely disappeared by the time Floyd rushed out into the back yard, where his mother was, and it is not known whether he fled down Seventeenth or out Offshore street.

Mrs. F. W. Putzek and daughters Anna 15, Bertha 17, Nellie Etterling 19, and Dorothy Bierly 2, were nearly overcome with gas fumes at the Putzek home, 1737 Eleventh street, Sunday morning. Mrs. Putzek and Anna and Miss Bierly were asleep in one bed room and Miss Bertha Putzek and Miss Etterling in another room. The gas stove was in the latter's room. The windows were tightly closed there and the gas turned down low, which allowed part of it to escape. A window in the other room was slightly lowered. Mrs. Putzek and daughter and guest not being affected with the fumes as badly as Miss Bertha Putzek and guest.

Mrs. Putzek first noticed the gas in the room when she awakened. She quickly opened the windows and tried to awake Bertha Putzek and Miss Etterling. After shaking and pulling them for several minutes they opened their eyes but were in a stupor. They quickly revived on being taken to an open window. A short time later Miss Etterling went into convulsions, it being necessary to call a physician. Miss Bertha Putzek was also given treatment by the doctor. All day Sunday Miss Etterling was seriously ill but Monday she was as well as ever. Mrs. Putzek, Anna Putzek and Miss Bierly felt no ill effects from their experience.

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, March 7.—Specialties of various descriptions, oils excepted, made further gains today. Standard shares participated in more moderate degree on favorable news from Washington. Prices of active stocks seemed to express less confidence in prevailing conditions at the opening of today's market. Overnight advances from Washington suggested a greater strain on the political situation and foreign news was more conflicting. Gains ruled at the outset, but with the exception of Mercantile Marine preferred which rose a point, advances were limited to fractions. Later some of these gains were extended while other issues, notably California Petroleum were lowered to the point of weakness. United States Steel, Union Pacific and Erie yielded with the balance of the list.

Cruible steel and Baldwin Locomotive led the irregular demand for United States Steel, which continued to denote moderate pressure. Cruible added 2 to yesterday's substantial advance and Baldwin 2 1/4.

California petroleum common and preferred made further recessions on the poor annual report and Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company yielded sympathy.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
Chicago, March 7.—Lower quotations from Liverpool tended today to cause a setback in the wheat market here. In this connection traders gave much attention to an increase in the European visible supply total and to cable despatches referring to the possibility of concerted action toward the opening of the Dardanelles. Domestic crop advances appeared to be somewhat less pessimistic than yesterday. The opening which ranged from 7 1/2 to 1 1/2 @ 17 1/2 lower, with May at $1.13 1/2 to $1.15 and July at $1.11 to $1.11 1/2 was followed by a slight additional decline.

The close was unsettled, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cts. net lower with May at $1.13 1/2 and July at $1.10 1/2 @ $1.11.

Corn weakened with wheat. Besides the wheat her conditions affecting the movement of the corn crop were somewhat improved. After opening 7 1/2 to 7 1/2 cts. lower the market underwent a further sag. The close was nervous at 3 1/2 to 3 1/2 cts. decline.

Oats declined owing to the own turn in the value of other grains. Buyers were scarce.

Higher prices on hogs made provisions go up grade. Arrival of hogs was less numerous than expected.

The bulge in the value of provisions brought about liberal sales later to realize on holdings. Accordingly a decided reaction took place in favor of the bears.

"Certainty of Punishment Strongest Deterrent of Crime," Says Judge Corn.

MRS. CHURCHILL SENT TO PEN; A PLEA FOR MERCY IS DENIED

Marie Ferguson Churchill recently indicted on three counts by grand jury for shooting at Frank Pool, changed her plea from not guilty to guilty before Judge E. E. Corn, in common pleas court Tuesday morning and was given an indeterminate sentence in the Ohio penitentiary. The indictments, charging shooting with intent to kill and wound were nolledd by the prosecution.

Mrs. Churchill was recently arraigned before Judge Thomas and during the trial fainting, making it necessary to postpone the proceedings.

Counsel for the defense made a strong plea for mercy, claiming that the woman had languished in the county jail for the past 60 days and had suffered enough for the crime with which she was charged. Judge Noah Dyer concluded by saying: "If the court please, my client has asked me to request a suspended sentence. If given a suspended sentence or allowed to pay a reasonable fine, she will dispose of her property and move back to her relatives in Kentucky."

Assistant Prosecutor E. G. Millar said that the Churchill woman had a "general bad character" and cited several alleged crimes of which she had been accused at divers times. He asked that the full penalty of the law be imposed, saying: "That it was the object of the law to make the crime of carrying concealed weapons a serious one."

After a final plea for mercy by George W. Sheppard, Judge Corn cited the section pertaining to the charge and added: "A fine, in the court's opinion, is an inadequate penalty in many cases. Persons will pay a fine and smile about it for they can soon recover the money spent. But it is different with taking away their liberty."

"In recent years I have suspended hundreds of sentences, particularly in cases where the prisoners were young or were not fully instructed in the requirements of the law. But I have found that mercy only encourages crime."

"At a recent session of grand jury in Lawrence county, I was requested not to grant suspended sentences except in rare cases. The certainty of punishment is the strongest deterrent of crime. A fine and a jail sentence will not stop carrying concealed weapons. This woman stands in need of restraint. Stand up! Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed?"

Mrs. Churchill rose to her feet and she uttered a few incoherent words.

The judge then said: "You are sentenced for an indeterminate term at the Ohio penitentiary." The woman gathered a white automobile veil, which was twisted around her head, about her shoulders and watched the crowd leave the court room.

Attorneys Noah Dyer and Geo. W. Sheppard represented the defense and Millar and Micklethwait the prosecution.

GREENUP JAILER FINDS 12 SAWS ON PRISONERS

DOCTOR FACES CHARGES

When J. W. Stewart, jailer at Greenup, discovered 12 all steel back saws, 14 inches in length in the various cells of the Greenup jail Monday night he believes he nipped in the bud one of the best planned jail deliveries ever attempted in Greenup.

Last Saturday Mr. Stewart found two similar saws in the hands of two prisoners and since then he has made a determined effort to locate more saws and when he personally inspected each cell and had each prisoner incarcerated in the jail searched Monday evening his efforts were rewarded, he says, by the finding of 12 saws.

Jailer Stewart further asserts that one prisoner smuggled into the prison from an outside source and that they had been in the hands of prisoners for over a week. So carefully has Mr. Stewart guarded the prisoners that they had practically little or no chance to use the saws.

Since the finding of these saws the 12 prisoners in the jail have been guarded day and night in an effort to prevent a wholesale jail delivery. Six weeks ago it will be recalled that four prisoners broke jail and nothing has since been heard of them.

Dr. George F. Schwenkmeyer, Cincinnati, has been ordered to appear before the State Medical Board Saturday morning at nine o'clock to answer charges of unprofessional and dishonest conduct filed by Attorney General Turner.

According to press dispatches, Dr. Schwenkmeyer made arrangements with R. Von Walden to practice medicine and surgery on December 26, 1915, he is charged with visiting Portsmouth with Von Walden to see Charles Fenstermacher, who was suffering from dropsy. It is claimed that the physician agreed to cure Fenstermacher of the dropsy for $250. It is said that the wife paid $30 of the aggregate and the balance later, but Fenstermacher died.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered nuxtoin from any drug store. Sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge-rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will have rid of them. The blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dirt and grease and secretions from the body that form in the pores.

Rev. P. E. Wright's subject at the U. B. revival Monday night was "Three Hells." In order to fully appreciate Rev. Wright's sermons one should hear the many illustrations he gives.

"In this day some men have traveled so swiftly intellectually that hell has been destroyed, burned out. I am not caring so much about the hell that is to come after we are dead as the hell that there is on earth now. I am not serving Jesus Christ tonight because of fear of the afterworld but I am serving Him because I find joy and peace and happiness.

"Hell, a place of torment. If I had to define hell I would say that it is the name of a place where the devil rules. Satan knows his business; Satan don't go around fishing with anything else but good bait. And if Satan is not sure of getting you in any other way he will permit you to have a certain amount of worldly pleasure; accumulate wealth, enjoy high social position and honor in this world just to get a chance at you in the world to come. Now in order for the devil to have a great population there it is necessary for him to have a few dominions of his own here. In order for a man to live in hell hereafter he must at least enjoy to a certain extent a little of the same here upon earth.

"The first hell that I want to speak to you about is hell in the heart. Every individual who is being governed by the lust of the flesh is being governed by Satan. What was it that caused Judas to sell his master? It was the lust of the flesh. And when he entered that man he set up a kingdom in his heart. That was hell. If there would be no hell in the heart there would be no hell hereafter. Keep in mind the fact that Satan will allow you to enjoy a certain amount of worldly pleasure in order to get a chance at you in the world to come.

"The second hell is hell in the home. It is a result of hell in the heart. You are no doubt thinking just now of some home you know of where it is a veritable hell on earth. A cursing father, a drinking father makes home hell. Not only that, but a neglectful wife, a woman that should stay at home and rear children and make home a peaceful place runs around, leaving her home duties, causes a hell in the home. By the disobedience of children many homes have been turned into a hell. Then there are fathers who have given their hearts to God and have come out to do right but their wives make a veritable hell for them at home by nagging and scolding when the husbands wanted so much to do right. And I have known the other way when the poor mother tries to do the best she knows how but her husband laughs at her or leaves her and makes their home a hell. What caused it? Hell in the heart. That is what causes the numerous divorce cases.

"Now, my friends, of it all is this: A burning hell hereafter. I had used a text tonight I would have chosen Luke 16:23, 'And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torment.' This is from the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, a poor man was carried to heaven where he became rich. But the rich man 'died and was buried.' There is a difference being buried and being buried and carried to heaven.

"Everybody was notified of the death of the rich man. He was taken into the finest church in the city where all his lodges are assembled. Now, I am not going to condemn lodges. I belong to two of them myself, but listen to this, I never in my life went to my lodge on Wednesday night or any other night when church services were being held. I drop that in by way of parenthesis. Well, I see great bunches of flowers on the rich man's coffin. What a great funeral he had. But the Book says that he was in torment when he went into the hereafter. He had never committed any great crime. He was just a rich man who had neglected to do what he ought to have done. Oh, that I might paint a picture of that man in hell tonight. If you would ask him if he has peace or joy he would say 'no.' He would say that his life was an entire failure. And he looks away over-shoulder and sees the poor man at Abraham's bosom. The face of Lazarus is lit up with the glory of God. The rich cry 'Abraham! Abraham! Oh, I am in torment, I am thirsty down here. Can't you send me just a little water, just enough to moisten the tip of my tongue.' But the time is past. Abraham says 'Don't you remember the light that was given you that you failed to walk on. Don't you remember when the opportunity was given you on earth to get to heaven.' If the opportunity was offered to the lost ones in hell of accepting Christ every-without trying to save a soul! Listen, friends, we want all do our best!"

JUDGE JAMES W. BANNON IS CALLED BY DEATH

Honored And Beloved Resident Of The City Answers The Last Call At Los Angeles, Cal.

Judge James W. Bannon, for years one of the most prominent residents of Portsmouth and one of the best known attorneys in Southern Ohio, died Tuesday morning in Los Angeles, California. News of his death was conveyed to Mr. Henry T. Bannon this afternoon in a message from Miss Charlotte Bannon, who with Mrs. Bannon accompanied Judge Bannon to Los Angeles three weeks ago.

The message bearing the news of the death of Judge Bannon was filed in Los Angeles at 11:57 this morning and was received here at 3:25 this afternoon. While the message gave no particulars of death, relatives here believe that it was caused by heart failure, Judge Bannon having been afflicted with this disease for several years.

Shortly before starting for the Golden West in the hopes of regaining his health Judge Bannon was seized with a severe attack of heart trouble. It was after he recovered from this that relatives decided he should visit the Coast, and he was accompanied by Mrs. Bannon and daughter, Miss Charlotte Bannon. They had secured comfortable quarters in the residential section of Los Angeles and had expected to spend most of the Spring months in Los Angeles.

Attorney Arthur H. Bannon, a son, left Monday afternoon for Los Angeles. He was to have reached Kansas City this afternoon. Relatives were busy late today making an effort to intercept him and apprise him of his father's death. He will meet the funeral party enroute East and will accompany the body back to Portsmouth.

Was Born
In Portsmouth
James William Bannon was born in Portsmouth, O., September 22, 1841. His father was Edward Bannon, who came to Portsmouth April 7, 1837, a native of County, West Meath, Ireland. His mother was Bridget Devlin, a native of Dublin, Ireland. His parents were married in Ireland. He went to school in Portsmouth, until he was fifteen years of age. Among his teachers were Miss Rankin, Professor Dodge, James H. Poe, John Bolton, Jennie Wheelock and Prof. F. E. White. At the age of fourteen he went into the employ of Emanuel Miller, and was a boy about the store. He remained with him until he was twenty-one years of age. While in Mr. E. Miller's employ he began the study of law under the direction of Judge Peck, then on the supreme bench. He read under Judge Peck for thirteen months. He went into Judge Towne's office, January 1, 1863, and was admitted to the bar March 15, 1864 on a certificate signed by Judge William B. Peck and H. H. Towne.

He enlisted in Company E, 140th O. V. I. May 2, 1864, for 100 days and was mustered out September 3, 1864. He was the first sergeant of the company. After he came back from the war, he went into partnership with Judge H. A. Towne, for three years, until Feb. 5, 1869, and soon after formed a partnership with T. C. Anderson under the name of Bannon & Anderson, which continued until 1878.

He was common pleas judge of his sub-division from October, 1884 until February, 1887, and administered the office with great credit, but declined a re-election. He practiced alone until 1891, when he formed a partnership with his son, Henry T. Bannon, and during the same year his son, Arthur H. Bannon, was admitted to the bar, and became a member of the firm.

He was in partnership with his two sons under the firm name of Bannon & Bannon. He was a member of the city school board from 1874 to 1877. He was president of the First National Bank from 1893 until a few years ago, but has since remained a director of that institution.

He has been counsel in Ohio for the Norfolk and Western railway since it purchased the Scioto Valley railroad and held the same position for the Scioto Valley railroad seven years before.

He was a director of the Portsmouth & Kentucky Fire Brick Company and the Selby Shoe Company. He operated a large farm near Lucasville and remained in the general law practice with his sons until recently.

He was married April 24, 1866 to Mary E. Smith, daughter of Josephine and M. G. Smith. His children are Henry Towne, Arthur Hurd, who were his law partners, a daughter, Miss Charlotte and James W., Jr.

Judge Bannon had been remarkably successful in his career, standing at the head of his profession as a lawyer and had been equally successful in business enterprises. Any organization he interested himself in always prospered. Socially he was a most charming companion.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Louise Robinson Grayton

The body of Mrs. Louise Robinson Grayton, who recently passed away at Dean's Island, Arkansas, was brought here Monday night and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Cissna with whom the deceased had made her home for 45 years. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning by the Rev. E. Ainger Powell and Mrs. Grayton's remains were tenderly laid to rest in Greenlawn.

Complications superinduced by grip caused the death of Mrs. Grayton, who was well known here and who leaves one brother in the city. During her illness her every want was administered to by Mr. and Mrs. Cissna, who had the highest regard for Mrs. Grayton, a kind and lovable woman.

James E. Collis

James E. Collis, a well known cab driver and daughter of the Scioto Trail, died suddenly Monday night at 10:30 following an attack of heart disease. Since his wife's death, which took place February 8, 1916, Mr. Collis had complained of trouble with his heart. Late Monday afternoon his son drove his father to this city to see Dr. S. S. Haldeman. The physician instructed the patient to stay in the city as the trip would probably prove fatal, so Mr. Collis was taken to the home of his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Collis, No. 1129 Fourteenth street. A few hours afterward he passed away.

The late Mr. Collis was one of the familiar figures in Portsmouth. His waiting cab at the N. & W. depot was at the call of most every business man in the city. Finally the automobile made competition too strong for the cab and Mr. Collis disposed of his equipment, moved to a home on Scioto Trail, near the Two Mile Hill and entered the employ of the Portsmouth Paving Brick Company as driver. He remained in this capacity until his untimely death.

He was born January 4, 1871. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collis, well known residents of Portsmouth. He left school at an early age and became fascinated with the horse and cab business.

In 1895 he married Miss Alice Tilton. His wife died last February following a short illness. The shock of losing his life-mate is supposed to have caused the heart trouble.

There are three children to mourn the loss of a splendid father: Miss Addie Collis, stenographer in the office of Will S. Sellards, a local real estate agent; Harry Collis, bookkeeper at the Portsmouth Paving Brick Co. and John, an employee of the Selby Shoe Company.

Mr. Collis was a regular attendant at the First Baptist church and took an active part in the church activities.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home of his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Collis, of Fourteenth street, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. B. F. Caudill will have charge of the services. Interment will be made at the Greenlawn cemetery.

Richard E. Burrus

Richard E. Burrus, the 17-year-old son of James P. Burrus and Mrs. Lucy Wheeler Burrus, died at the family home No. 2203 Ninth street (rear) shortly after midnight Monday of pneumonia. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

BIG AUTO PARADE IN HONOR OF PORTSMOUTH'S FIRST 1916 BABY

Taking from the pleasant greeting extended by Old Sol this morning, the weather man is preparing to furnish delightful surroundings throughout upon the presentation of the hundred or more gifts donated by the good people of this fair city for Portsmouth's first 1916 baby, Dudley Albert Barber, and which, according to present plans, will be given him on Friday afternoon, March 10, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barber, 1315 Union street.

All persons who signified their willingness to donate presents for the first Peerless baby of 1916 are hereby notified that they are expected to have their presents ready for distribution by not later than 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. It is hoped to make the presentation festivities a gala affair, and persons owning automobiles are kindly asked to donate their machines to be used in the grand parade preceding the bestowing of the gifts. A committee consisting of Fred N. Tynes, Roy Compton and F. W. Sheridan has been named to arrange all the preliminary exercises. Mr. Tynes is to have absolute charge of the exercises, owing to the fact that the motion pictures taken of the festivities will be shown at the Columbia theater as soon after taken as possible.

These citizens who have donated gifts are asked to enter into the spirit of the occasion with the same graciousness that marked their proffering the gifts. It is proposed to park all the automobiles near the Times office at 7 o'clock. The parade will move over the principal streets of the city, and motion pictures will be taken as the parade passes a given point. It is hoped to have fully 75 machines in line and the committee on arrangements will be pleased to hear from auto owners who will donate the use of their machines for the occasion. Any member of the committee will be glad to take the names of those owners who will be so thoughtful as to offer the use of their machines, it being understood, of course, that all owners drive their machines or send along their chauffeurs.

Let all those who have signified their willingness to donate gifts have the same ready, so the parade can move at the exact hour. No delays are expected, for the merchants and citizens entered into the spirit of the occasion with a right royal spirit and it is hoped to make the occasion the greatest affair of its kind ever held in Southern Ohio. Incidentally, if you have never been approached and desire to make a gift for Dudley Albert, notify The Times at once and a place will be provided for you in the parade. Those who desire to attend the presentation festivities are kindly asked to assemble at the Barber home not later than 2 o'clock. There is plenty of room on the paved streets for the crowd and a most convenient place to park all machines at the conclusion of the parade.

Word from the home of the proud parents of Dudley Albert is to the effect that their son and heir is enjoying the best of health. The little fellow had a mighty hard pull during the first few weeks of his life, but he is now one of the brightest looking little fellows in this city and will be ready to come out in the glad sunshine and have his picture taken.

BOARD TO HOLD PROPERTY OWNERS RESPONSIBLE

Action On Sanitary Sewer Controversy Committees Named

Hereafter property owners signing petitions for, or residing in the vicinity of a sanitary sewer will be held in strict accountability by the city for making a tap, if the recommendations of the local Board of Health are held legal by City Solicitor Anselm Skelton.

Besides passing this recommendation the board of health, which met in regular session Monday afternoon at the council chamber, passed a measure asking council to reduce the price of sanitary sewer taps from the sliding scale of $15 for a six room dwelling and $25 for each additional room, to a general fee of $5. By doing this the members believe that more people will be induced to take out permits without being compelled to do so by the board.

Believing that the board should enforce the health laws, Dan Labold presented a measure recommending that City Plumbing Inspector Frank Burt confer with Solicitor Anselm Skelton relative to the legality of forcing all property owners residing in the vicinity of a sanitary sewer and those signing petitions for sewers to make the tap and give the inspector the power to take such action as he may deem necessary to enforce the law. Immediately following, Dr. A. L. Test and J. J. Orlett took exception to the proposed motion, contending that it would be a hardship upon the property owners having satisfactory sanitary vaults, and who were unable financially to install the appliances required. The opposition offered to conciliate by amending the motion to require only those property owners signing petitions for sanitary sewers to install the tap. The offer led to further discussion, during which Capt. Little said: "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. We are here to enforce the laws. We cannot expect to make laws that would please all."

A vote was taken and the result was a dead-lock, with Members Labold and Little for, and Members Test and Orlett against. Mayor H. H. Kaps, who presided at the time, left the chair and voted for the measure. Following the passage of the foregoing measure, Mr. Labold recommended a sweeping reduction in the prices of sanitary sewer taps, advocating a general fee of $5 instead of the present prices of $15 for a six room dwelling and $25 for each additional room. This proposal met with the hearty support of the body and was passed without a dissenting voice. Recommendations will be made to council at their next regular meeting asking that the board's action be accepted.

Constitution reigns when some one asked if such legislation would effect the taps issued before the measure was passed. But it was generally believed that it would have no effect. Some one offered the following: "Would you include Mrs. Clara G. Foster's permit in this?" To which Mr. Labold replied: "I should say not. We have settled this for good."

"Even the city has been violating the law," asserted Mayor Kaps with a peculiar grin. "Perkaps you know that there is only one toilet in the city hall. And no lavatory in the safety directors' office."

"Yes," declared Mr. Burt, the new plumbing inspector, "but we have remedied this condition. The contract has been awarded for the installation of the required toilets and work will be started within the next few days."

Dr. A. J. Test reported that complaints had been received by him concerning several East End business houses not having the necessary sanitary appliances. After a short discussion the matter was referred to the plumbing inspector with power to act.

The suggestion was favorably received by the board and a measure was passed, instructing the service department to refuse permits not bearing the recommendation of the plumbing inspector. The recent sensational arrest of Mrs. Clara G. Foster, and her imprisonment in the county jail on an alleged charge of failing to pay a fine assessed for refusing to install a sanitary sewer permit when ordered to do so, was recalled in the report of Inspector Burt. Mr. Burt asserted that the sanitary sewer tap had been installed and paid for by Plumber Edward Haegward.

The plumbing inspector also reported that Calvin Johnson, a local citizen had installed a vault for the Selby Shoe company on its property at the corner of Tenth and Findlay streets without taking out a permit. The members were all of the opinion that Johnson should be compelled to appear before the mayor to explain his alleged action. The mayor said: "Out of consideration for the Selby Shoe company we should make an explanation of the affair. Johnson was employed by this concern to install the vault. They did not know whether he took out a permit or not and they should not be blamed for the trouble that Johnson has led them into."

The inspector also reported that he had a list of several violators of the various health laws in regard to installing vaults without permits. A list of the alleged violators will be prepared and submitted to the mayor who will instruct them to appear in court to explain their neglect. Member Orlett reported a nuisance existing on the Schuler property on Second street and said he had made an investigation. He declared that the property at this point is very low, making it necessary for Mr. Ziegler, the owner of the adjoining property, to maintain a pump to drain the surface water. Recommendations were made asking that a sanitary sewer be built to connect with the Third street storm sewer. Mr. Labold opposed this suggestion saying that it was illegal to join a sanitary sewer to a storm sewer.

Mayor Kaps declared that the Third street sewer was used for sanitary purposes at the western junction and could be legally used until the new sanitary trunk system was built by the city. Mr. Labold said: "I will never favor the tapping of a sanitary sewer into a storm sewer under any consideration," said Mr. Labold. Nor will I ever consent to a measure recommending such action. It is absolutely wrong and I am opposed to it. This city is destitute now for sanitary sewers and it is only a fair proposition that we do all in our power to enforce the requirements of the state board of health. The mayor in explaining, said that one of the salient measures fostered by his administration was the construction of a complete sanitary system for the Hilltop and eastern section of the city. He stated that it was proposed to construct a trunk sewer down Eighth street to take care of the sanitary demands of the Hilltop section and another trunk line down Robinson avenue for the eastern section of the city.

The nuisance reported existing on the Peebles and Hutton properties, Gallia street and Mabert Road, was investigated by Dr. A. L. Test, who said that the pool of water was caused by the failure of the city to fulfill an agreement with Mr. Peebles. He said that the property owner informed him that the city agreed to fill the low place when Gallia street was improved but had failed to do so. The physician said he saw Mr. Gergens, former director of public service concerning the matter and the agreement was affirmed.

A motion was passed instructing the service department to send a man to drain the water about this property. Dr. Test also reported that several of the basements in that section were flooded during the rainy seasons owing to the level of the sewers being above the floor of the cellars. Mayor Kaps explained the conditions. Read Communication From E. F. McCampbell. Clerk John Bernitt read a communication from E. F. McCampbell, secretary of the state board of health, in which he gave his reasons for not sending a special representative to Portsmouth to investigate the alleged unsanitary conditions of the Mrs. Clara G. Foster property, when requested by the local board. Mr. McCampbell said that it would be a confession of weakness on the part of the local board and advised that the tap be installed and the costs be assessed against the property and certified to the county auditor for collection.

W. W. Smith, health officer, submitted his report for the month of February. It stated that there had been three cases of diphtheria; three cases of scarlet fever; seven houses quarantined and thirty complaints of unsanitary conditions investigated. Dr. Schaefer Made 300 House Calls. In his report, Dr. William D. Schaefer, city physician, asserted that he had 32 office calls, 300 house calls and 4 obstetrical cases. Forty-nine inspections and a collection of $38.50 was reported by Plumbing Inspector Frank Burt for the month. The death rate during the month of February was 12.5 to 1000 population, according to the mortality report. There were 32 deaths during the month. The dairy inspector rendered a partial report and stated that a full list of inspections would be furnished at the next meeting of the board.

The schedule for the month, which amounted to $388.08 was read and allowed. To Increase Parity Of Water, Says Mr. Shute. Dan Labold suggested that George P. Shute, chief hydraulic engineer at the new water works furnish the press with frequent reports on the analysis of the water. Mr. Shute, who was present, stated that this was done. He also informed the board that the water was in good condition at the present time but that "several alterations would be made at the filter plant which would material increase the purity of the water." These are additions, contended Mr. Shute, "rather than alterations."

Bonds of $500 each for the following licensed plumbers were approved by the board: The A. E. Miller construction company, W. A. Kelley, Joseph Rigley, Charles Seeley, George Wilkerson, The Schmidt-Watkins company, E. S. Burkhardt, Joseph Lovine, Thomas McCarthy, John Bergum, E. P. Macquard, Henry Cooper, R. B. Cunningham, Charles Barlow, E. S. Wilson and Frank Walker, J. C. Taylor, Saunders-Watrous company, the Walters Plumbing company and the General Service company.

The following committees of the local board were announced: Sanitation, Labold, Test and Little; dairy products, Test, Orlett and Fetter; contagious diseases, Fetter, Little and Labold; disinfectants, Little, Fetter and Orlett; nuisances, Orlett, Labold and Test.

Undertaker Roy Lynn on Monday received a lung motor, a resuscitating life-saving device. The use of lung motors is growing in the larger cities, many lives having been saved by them, notably during the excursion steamer Eastland disaster in the Chicago river last year when two hundred persons were revived through the use of lung motors. Mr. Lynn expects to carry his new outfit on his ambulance.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 30.

Miss Dolly Wise—I have a new house and the walls in some of the rooms are cracked. As we intend to paint the walls this Spring we want to close these cracks so they won't show through the paint. Some use plaster of paris. Do you know of something more substantial?

MRS. A. B. Plaster paris is the best thing I know of for filling cracks. Just get five or ten cents worth and mix it with water and fill up the holes. Then smooth over. You will have to work quickly as the mixture hardens in no time. I have also seen putty used for this purpose.

Dear Miss Wise—We are two young boys, 17 years of age. And do you think there is any harm in keeping company with a girl once in a while? How can you win your girl back when you have no cause for losing her? Do you think a girl would think more of a fellow if he would not act as a man with common sense or a fellow that acts smart?

TWO CHUMS. There is no harm going about with nice girls once in a while. If a girl doesn't want to go with a boy he can't make her do so. I should think a girl would rather go with a sensible boy. Nobody likes a smart Aleck.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a boy seventeen years of age. I am hearing a trade. I knew I could not go all the way through high school so I went to work. Would you please tell me of a college where I can go and learn high school studies and an engineering course together. Thanking you for your answer. How is my writing.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home-Made

Gradually but surely you will notice the pain thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heats the inflammation in a painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less, holding better for bronchitis, winter coughs and bronchial asthma. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—at a cost of only 54 cents. Keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant. Easily prepared. Full directions with Pinex.

AN UNEDUCATED BOY. Write to the president of the Ohio State University at Columbus or Athens, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I would like for you to give me some information as to whether there is going to be a day nursery in Portsmouth this spring or summer. If so, when will it open? Dear Miss Wise I will thank you very much for your answer. A MOTHER.

There will probably be a day nursery opened in this city about June.

Dear Miss Wise—Should a flesh-colored crepe de chine waist be washed or dry cleaned, and how?

It can be very nicely washed. Use lukewarm water and ivory soap and color the water in which you rinse the waist with flesh-colored crepe paper. The waist will stay its original color.

Dear Miss Wise—The leather seats in my dining-room chairs are soiled. How can they be cleaned? They are genuine leather.

MRS. HITTTOP. They can be cleaned with a mixture of equal parts of gasoline and sweet oil. This is also good for fine woodwork and furniture. Sweet milk is also good for cleaning real leather.

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me how to pronounce lingerie, risqué and meringue.

IGNORANT. "Lingerie" is pronounced long-ger-ee. The accent is on the first syllable, and the "g" is soft. "Risqué" is risk-ay, accent on the last syllable. "Meringue" is mer-ang, hard "g" and accent on the last syllable.

Dear Dolly—Can the vice-mayor of council vote on ordinances, resolutions and other matters that come up before that honorable body?

He can vote only in case of a tie.

Dear Miss Wise—If you were a young girl and another girl took your best boy friend away, what would you do?

DAYME. If I were the young girl of whom you write, I would feel that a girl who would take my "best man" away from me was welcome to him. I shouldn't want a man who was so fickle as to be won away so easily.

The Slighted One—I certainly feel sorry for a woman who has such a disposition. She is not responsible for what she says. Evidently she thought you gave her the gift because she was poor and therefore took it as an insult. Some people would rather starve than accept what they thought was charity from another. Of course you did not feel that she needed the gift, whatever it was, but gave it to her as a little token of love and friendship. Consider the incident closed in so far as you are concerned.

Dolly—No one but a weak-minded coward would think of committing suicide. You ought to be ashamed to say such a thing. If you do your own work and look after your husband and children you will not have time to think of mischief. You ought to try to prevail upon your husband to give up his bad habits

SOCIETY

Elegant in all of the details was the beautiful wedding of Miss Doris Lehman, handsome daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Lehman, of Second street, and Mr. Milton O. Meiss, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus Meiss, of Cincinnati, which took place last evening, at half after six, at the handsome new Elk parlors. The rooms were exquisitely adorned for the occasion in the pink and white colors, the artistic work of Mr. Henry Charlton, decorator of the Lehman store. The attendants were Mrs. Sidney Victor Rintels, of Boston, Mass., sister of the bride, who acted as matron of honor; Mr. Milton Lowenstein, of Cincinnati, a friend of the groom, who was the best man; Little Miss Rosalind Joseph, niece of the groom, was the dainty little flower girl, and the attractive little ring bearer was Master Victor Rintels, nephew of the bride. The guests were ushered to their seats by Messrs. Simon and Sylvan Lehman, brothers of the bride, Lewis Lazarus and Hubert Bamberger, both nephews of the groom, of Cincinnati. The attractive wedding music was rendered by Hansen's Orchestra, of four pieces, including piano, violin, cornet and flute. The beautiful ceremony was most impressive, taking place beneath a huge white bell covered with smilax and flowers, with a beautiful beaver of palms and ferns forming a background to the handsome bride and groom, who advanced from the dressing-room through the living room to the large ball room, the scene of the wedding. Pink and white streamers extended from the bell to all parts of the room. To the strains of the wedding music, the ushers led the way to the beautiful improvised altar. The beautiful matron came next, carrying an armful of bridesmaid roses; the little ring bearer and the dainty flower girl came together, the ring-bearer carrying the golden circle on a hand-some tray, and the flower girl strewn sweet pea petals in the pathway of the bride, who came in attended by her distinguished looking father, who gave her in marriage. They were joined at the altar by the groom and his best man.

The sweet young bride, a handsome brunette beauty, wore an elegant gown, a creation of white grosgrain silk, so much in vogue in older times, and again of the latest style. The short skirt was covered with tiers of tulle, and the bodice cut low in the neck, without sleeves, was beaded with pearls. The shoulder straps being also made of pearls. Her handsome veil, the same as worn by her sister, fell in graceful folds forming a long train over her short skirt, and her bouquet was a shower of valley lilies. Mrs. Rintels was attired in a handsome gown of gold-colored net, of rainbow effect, trimmed in amber beads and rose color tulle, so becoming to her style of beauty. The bodice was cut low in the neck with short sleeves. The sweet little flower girl was attired in white tulle over pink silk; her hair ribbons were pink and she carried a French basket of pink sweet peas. The little ring-bearer, the handsome young son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Victor Rintels, wore a blue velvet suit with collar and cuffs of white. The ceremony was said by Rabbi S. Freehof, of Cincinnati, after which congratulations were said.

The elegant dinner was served in the large banquet hall on the second floor, where the tables were beautiful in pink and white; pink tulle was used in profusion, finished in large butterfly bows at the sides and corners of the tables. Baskets of pink flowers and smilax formed the centerpiece; pink shaded candles and the pink shaded electric bulbs cast a beautiful light over the large room, a beautiful canopy of pink and white being suspended over the tables. The soufleurs were pink tulle bags filled with rice, with the hand-painted place-cards attached. Appropriate verses were sung to the tune of "Reuben, Reuben," during the serving of the dinner, and were the cause of much amusement. The bride's cake souvenirs had the monogram of the bride and groom.

The guests included fifty of the nearest relatives: Mr. and Mrs. Moses Lehman, Messrs. Simon and Sylvan Lehman, parents and brothers of the bride; Mrs. Sidney Victor Rintels and young son, Victor, of Boston, Mass., sister and nephew of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Max Lehman and two sons, Simon and Milton, of this city; uncle, aunt, and cousins of the bride; Miss Helen Wise, of Philadelphia, cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gideon, Miss Blanche Gideon, Mr. David Gideon and Mr. Michael Brod, of Huntington, all relatives of the bride; Mr. Barney Josephs, Miss Minette Dryfoos and Mr. Henry Dryfoos, all of Fremont, relatives of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lazarus, Miss Sylvia Lazarus, Mr. Louis Lazarus, Mrs. Herman Bamberger, Miss Blanche Bamberger, Mr. Herbert Bamberger, Mr. Milton Lowenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Joseph, Mr. Sylvan Joseph, Miss Rosalind Joseph, Mr. Milford Meiss, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Meiss and children, Mr. Sol Meiss, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus Kahn, all relatives of the groom, of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Moses Lehman, handsome mother of the bride, wore an elegant gown of black jetted net over silk, low in the neck and short sleeves. Miss Helen Wise wore green tulle over white silk and crepe, the underskirt trimmed in silver, the pretty effect showing through the tulle. The bodice made low in the neck with short sleeves. She wore silver slippers. Never was there an assemblage in Portsmouth wearing handsomer gowns than were worn at this wedding, many of them being black and jetted-net and some of handsome velvet made low in the neck and short sleeves.

The bride's going-away gown was of blue serge and her stylish hat was of the same color. The happy couple left on the midnight train when on the surface or when submerged, and oil engines of the heavy type. The latter can only be used when the submarine is on the surface. The batteries are charged from a dynamo run by the oil engine. The exhaust is always to the rear, as the oil engine is used only when the submarine is on the surface, as stated above. The time in which a submarine can stay under water is limited by the battery capacity, if under way. If the submarine remains stationary, it can stay below several days until the reserve air supply is exhausted.

Meet Me At Nye's Fountain, 12th Richardson's hall was the scene of a beautiful dance last evening, when a leap your dance was given by a few Catholic young women of the city. The room was prettily decorated for the occasion in scarlet, blended with colors, showing artistic taste, with the addition of handsome palms and ferns gracefully arranged about the hall. The gowns worn by the young women were attractive and all wore beautiful corsage bouquets, their escorts all wearing pretty lapel bouquets, presented by the young women. Journey's Orchestra rendered the dance music. Fruit punch was served during the evening and later in the evening refreshments were served at Malavazos, on the first floor. The dancing opened with a beautiful grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. John Russell.

for the sake of his children, if for nothing else. You can clean kid gloves with gasoline.

Dear Miss Wise—What power do submarines use? If electricity, how are the batteries charged, and, if gasoline, how is the exhaust cared for? How long could a submarine stay under water? SCHOOL BOY.

Submarines at present have two sources of power, electricity from storage batteries, which can be used when on the surface or when submerged, and oil engines of the heavy type. The latter can only be used when the submarine is on the surface. The batteries are charged from a dynamo run by the oil engine. The exhaust is always to the rear, as the oil engine is used only when the submarine is on the surface, as stated above. The time in which a submarine can stay under water is limited by the battery capacity, if under way. If the submarine remains stationary, it can stay below several days until the reserve air supply is exhausted.

Richardson's hall was the scene of a beautiful dance last evening, when a leap your dance was given by a few Catholic young women of the city. The room was prettily decorated for the occasion in scarlet, blended with colors, showing artistic taste, with the addition of handsome palms and ferns gracefully arranged about the hall. The gowns worn by the young women were attractive and all wore beautiful corsage bouquets, their escorts all wearing pretty lapel bouquets, presented by the young women. Journey's Orchestra rendered the dance music. Fruit punch was served during the evening and later in the evening refreshments were served at Malavazos, on the first floor. The dancing opened with a beautiful grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. John Russell.

PORTSMOUTH REPUBLICANS PLAN A BIG CROWD FOR JACKSON TRIP

The Republicans of Portsmouth are planning to take at least a hundred people, besides the members of a brass band to Jackson Thursday evening, March 16, to attend the big "Get Together" banquet, which will be held at the Cambridge Hotel. A meeting of the committee on arrangements was held Monday night at the offices of S. Ausch. Skelton, when the various guarantee lists recently circulated by the committee were filed. It was found that over fifty had already signed their intentions of attending the banquet.

It was reported that a large delegation from the Whitaker-Glassner Steel company and the Norfolk and Western Terminals were preparing to make the trip. Other large industrial plants will be represented. John E. Eckhart, chairman of the committee on arrangements, is quite enthusiastic over the glowing reports of those expecting to make the trip. "At first," he said, "we planned for fifty or sixty, including the members of a local band. But now it looks like one hundred strong."

Last week several of the Socialist party Republicans received personal invitations from the committee, which is composed of the following well-known Jackson business men: E. B. Matthews, A. E. Shattuck, J. E. Sylvester, D. D. Evans, Peter Radloff, and many have accepted their acceptance to the committee direct, instead of notifying the local committee. Several are also expected to decide to make the trip at the last minute.

Recently, Mr. Matthews informed Mr. Eckhart that the Jackson Republicans were preparing to care for just as large a delegation from the Norfolk City as could be induced to attend. "We will take care of the Portsmouth contingent in royal style," said Mr. Matthews.

Besides the promises of one of these famous Jackson dinners and feasts, the addresses of the evening will probably be the most interesting of the coming campaign.

The opening guns of the Republican campaign are expected to be fired at this meeting.

Among the speakers will be Governor Frank H. Willis, Hon. Myron

DOG WAS AFFLICTED WITH RABIES; VICTIM GIVEN PASTEUR TREATMENT

The dog by which Herbert, five-year-old son of Tony Scott, of McAtee, was bitten one day last week, had rabies in bad form, according to word received from Columbus by Dr. D. N. Hopkins, of Friendship, regarding the examination of the canine's head. The little boy has been brought to the William Bolles house at Friendship in order to make it more convenient for giving him the Pasteur treatment twice daily.

He was bitten on the arm by the dog which belonged to William Brown. The boy is reported doing as well as could be expected. Twenty-five or more dogs of the neighborhood were bitten by the Brown dog. These have been kept isolated by the owners, pending the report from the examination of the head. Constable Ford Lavender acting upon instructions from the township trustees began the work Monday of exterminating them.

ROBBERS RAID BOILER WORKS; LOOT IS SMALL

Robbers ransacked the Runyan boiler works office and plant, located at Seventeenth and Chillicothe streets, from one end to the other, some time Monday night.

Five dollars in small change which was kept in a steel deposit box of the office safe was taken and the box along with it.

Cigarette stumps found on the floor of the stock room where brass and other material is kept, evidenced the fact that the robbers had also visited that department and it will require an inventory to determine whether or not anything was taken there. The drawers of the office desks and the safe were removed and their contents strewn about in topography.

The robbery was discovered by Howard M. Runyan, manager of the concern, upon reaching the plant Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. A peculiar feature of the robbery is that the robbers unlocked the office door in entering and locked it when leaving. Mr. Runyan, finding the door locked when he arrived Tuesday morning, the police were promptly notified and are now investigating.

Charles, better known as "Kitty" Collins, aged 35, a colored porter, employed at Julius Arbogast's saloon, was the victim of a mysterious cutting affray Monday night at ten o'clock.

Collins was slashed across the back of the neck but the wound did not prove to be serious, as first reports had it. Collins immediately repaired to the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. E. W. Hubert, of No. 1919 Findlay street, who sewed up his wounds, and Tuesday morning found him back at his work as usual.

Police officers who investigated the affray were unable to learn the identity of Collins' assailant. He himself refused to discuss the trouble it was said, but the officers have their suspicions as to who the knife user was. Collins when asked by The Times Tuesday morning said a colored man named John Smith, had cut him, the attack following a fifteen-minute fight they had had on Fifteenth street. Chief Henry Clark expects to personally investigate the case.

"We are planning not only to hold one of the greatest Labor Day celebrations the city has ever seen on Monday, September 4, but we are going in for a week of it and the festivities will take place in Millbrook," P. William Abraham is chairman of the Labor Day committee and it will get busy right away hooking concessions and attractions for Labor Day Week in Portsmouth.

It was also announced that steps would be taken to organize the firemen of the city into a branch of the Federal Union, a movement of this character having long been contemplated by the Central Labor Council.

In the absence of President Louis Herder, who continues ill, George Brock presided at the meeting.

Workman Tumbles; Two Ribs Broken

William Shipps residing at 1891 Jackson street suffered the fracture of two ribs on his right side in a singular manner while at work as a car repairer at the N. & W. shops in East Portsmouth Monday afternoon.

A fellow workman and he were using a wrench to pull up a door of a car, and when the wrench slipped Shipps, who was standing on the door, lost his balance and fell, his body striking the winding shaft used to pull up the door. Shipps was removed to his home, and Dr. Walter Daehler was called. An examination showed that Shipps had two ribs broken and was bruised about the head and shoulders.

Sensation Coming?

There is a near sensation in the ranks of Vienna Camp Sons of Veterans. At the meeting in Selby (G. A. R.) hall this Tuesday evening, stated charges will be preferred against three or four members of the Camp, and court martial proceedings may be instituted at once or on order of the Division Commander. The men under charges are among the most prominent in the membership of the Camp.

Major General W. H. Sletzer, of Cleveland, who was to have presided over the old Uniformed Rank of Text No. 494, Knights of the Maccoets, at their regular meeting Monday night, failed to arrive, so the exercises were postponed indefinitely. In the meantime the new Rifle Squad, which will succeed the Uniformed Rank, will hold a meeting Thursday evening at the home of George Floyd, No. 1521 Twelfth street, where the election of officers will be made.

William Arzner, Ralph Cambell, John Winkler and Otto Davis were conducted through the intricate mazes of the order in fitting solemnity.

Three applications were favorably handed upon. The ceremonies of initiation will be conferred upon the newly elected members at the next regular meeting. The candidates are: William Robertson, R. E. Seavers and Oen Croizmiller.

On Monday evening, March 13, the lodge will entertain with a "Home Coming." An effort will be made to have every member of the order present. A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

James Ball Naylor, medic, historian, novelist, poet and journalist, writing in the Marion Star, suggests that a good topic for discussion by the rural debating societies or the village literary club, would be: "What Word, of All Words in Common Use, Is Most Frequently Mispronounced?" Acting as arbiter and judge, without warrant and prior to argument submitted, he proceeds to award the palm to "are-tic," nearly always pronounced "artie," while close seconds would be "en-lin-ary" often pronounced "cul-lin-ary," "a-e-ro-plane" wrongly "air-o-plane," "a-e-li-m-ate" usually "a-climate," "cup-ol-n" generally "cupolo," "cal-li-o-pe" universally "cal-li-ope," and "ex-cursion" as a rule "ex-cur-zhun."

Now, we haven't any desire to engage in debate or contention with this distinguished literati, being just a plain newspaper man myself, but we do both presume and assume to differ from him at one or two points. The most frequently mispronounced word is "finance." Thus so because it is used something like a million times to one of the learned Doctor's entry, "are-tic." Finance is invariably pronounced "fy-nancee," with the accent on the first syllable, when correctly it is "fe-nancee," with the accent on the last syllable and the "i" in the first as soft as tongue can make it. Ranking equal with "finance" in persistency or commonality of mispronunciation, but not so often used, is "fidelity." In this word the first "i" is soft and the accent is on the second syllable; ever though the "i" takes on its full sound and the accent is placed on the first syllable, making the word mistakenly "fy-del-ity." Further we can not find ourselves in accord with the pronunciation stated for "callopie." For it is not "cal-li-o-pe," neither is it "cal-li-ope," but the nearest that can be rendered in type, "k'li-o-pe." At least that is the way they sound it down on the Mississippi, if you can almost exterminate the first "a" and turn the last one soft, with a sort of puff, a sort of cross between a soft "a" and an aspirated "u." We give the Mississippi river pronunciation the preference as authoritative because it was on that stream the infernal butcher of both harmony and melody reached its pristine fieldishness.

But here is a proposition, we wish to put up to James Ball Taylor for decision on his superior scholarship: We have made certain assertions as to pronunciation of finance and fidelity, according to Worcester, because we hold him to be the best authority on pronunciation and spelling, but what does he count against universal acceptance or usage? The English speech knows no arbitrary and fixed rules, it is molded from generation to generation by custom, and custom, while it lasts is the law. So if a hundred and ninety-eight of our associates say "fy-nancee" and "fy-del-ity," why should he and we, professing a greater respect for Worcester and Webster, say they are wrong and it should be "fa-nancee" and "fadel-ity."

There used to be a doctor, who claimed he could cure any disease, if he could throw the patient into fits. The great Cincinnati Enquirer seems to be operating on a diametrical principle, believing it can kill anything if it can but throw it into free canal falls and non-intervention in Mexico.

The underground report is the recalcitrant councilmen have "gone and seen a light" on the militarization of the fire department. Now if they would go further and see a brighter light that would point the way to creating fire zones in the city all might be well.

Having fussed and flustered around and about for four days March settled down to real respectable conduct. We are not hazarding any prediction how long she'll behave, however.

Reading the society column, as we plead guilty to doing once in a while, we conclude that some youths of good judgment know where to come to get the right helpmate.

Senator Root is said to have gentle presidential aspirations, but he's big enough at that to stand by the president.

EXASPERATING

GIVEN SOME RESPECT

At a public lunch room, Saturday, several gentlemen fell to discussing the action of President Wilson in forcing to a vote of confidence, or a lack of it, in the position of his administration on the rights of Americans on the high seas. From that they passed to an animated debate on the question of preparedness, the majority taking a rather lugubrious view, at least one of them thought, on the present inability of this nation to cope with invasion by foreign foe.

It is both cheering and interesting to find that at the identical time, there was going out to the world an opinion of moment, that was directly in contravention of so gloomy an outlook. This opinion was an article, written by Herr Naumann, a member of the German Reichstag, for the Schleswig Henndal, and cabled from Copenhagen. In this article, Herr Naumann, warning of the consequences of possible war with America uses this language:

"America's fleet would be placed at the side of England's, increasing the possibility of an absolute, effective blockade. General recruiting within six months would produce a formidable American army."

"German ships in American harbors would be lost. America's daily increasing financial power would mean an incalculable prolongation of the war, because America could finance the allies for an unlimited period."

"We cannot shut our eyes to the endless sacrifices a possible war with the United States demands."

It is a happy thought, with such administration to our national pride, that Herr Naumann, is discussing a theory and not a probability. For notwithstanding differences we have with Germany about the rightful operations of submarines, the last thing desired is any actual clash with her. The strength of Woodrow Wilson with the great masses of the people today, is not only the confidence but the entire conviction that he will not only use every honorable endeavor to keep us out of war, but that he will succeed. We reiterate, the people do not want war, and in this country when the people do not want a thing and have a president with the tact, patience, strength and courage that Woodrow Wilson has developed that thing is not and can not be forced upon them.

Both sides are conducting the war on the same basis. Tidis was vastly important until it fell, then it was of no consequence; Verdun is "the key to Paris." Should it fall it would immediately become not so much as the opening in the key ring.

The fellow who always sees the gloomy side says, it would be all right this estimate of five birds to each person, were it not that most of the birds are English sparrows.

These Bavarians will have to look to their laurels, the Brandenburs are coming to the front.

TALES OUT OF RHYME

The unvarying practice of the press is to decry Mexicans as intent. We sometimes wonder if this is because of a failure to put into effect our boasted opposite qualities, or a careless pandering to public prejudice. We can not admit, of course, that Mexico has reached a development in material or mental development that compares favorably with our standards thereon, but that she has made progress in modern conception thereof, considerable progress, may be possible. It would seem so anyway, when we read of the rather remarkable armies, recruited by one Francis Villa and the campaigns he carried on with them. And if we may develop a thought, suggested, by an official Carranza report, the provision and providence manifested in the organization and equipment of those armies is notably conclusive that Villa was a brilliant military genius, but that his people have unusual adaptability and ability. For according to this report, when the Carranzistas made their last successful issue with the Villistas their capture included besides seven thousand prisoners, a quantity of field guns of strictly modern design and calibre, horses, arms and vast stores of ammunition, three a-e-ro-planes—be careful of the pronunciation of this word—and a generous supply of ambulance and hospital stores and equipment. Altogether it is clear that Villa's forces were not a vast mob of marauders and pillagers, but a trained body of soldiers, armed and equipped with an efficiency that was altogether commendable and also quite astounding to us, who are altogether too prone to regard the Mexican with contempt.

One thing showing the world has grown better, a great deal better, is the almost total disappearance of the coarse, brutal valentine.

The condition of several distinguished gentleman about Washington, today, may be described as sweating blood.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, March 7.—Three hundred members of the Dutch Treat Club have seen the first production on any stage of James Montgomery Flagg's entrance (l. c.) into the field of illegitimate drama. It is a seassick drama and one critic cursed the show so loudly that the curtain fell in a faint at Delmonico's, where it was perpetrated.

The office of a newspaper was taken as the subject for symbolic representation and therefore the scene was laid on the deck of a ship. This subtle touch was no doubt due to the fact that there was an old "Pinafore" set leaning around with nothing to do.

The name of the play was "The Breath of Scandal; or The Mistress of the Sins." Howard Chandler Christy took the part of Scandal; Herb Roth of Crime; Robert Wildhack of Sporting Page and Fontaine Fox of Advertising Fake.

The song hit of the opera was, "I Didn't Raise My Flagg to be a Goldberg." It went like this:

"I didn't raise my Flagg to be a Goldberg;
I wanted him to draw like Roth and Brown,
Like Christy, Irvin, Morgan, Gould and Wildhack,
So he could sell his stuff to Charley Towne.

But all he ever learned to draw was wages—
They pay him eighty thousand every week,
His drawings look like hell,
But the paper thinks they're swell,
So they've gone and made my little Flagg a Goldberg."

Jimnie Marshall is from Louisville, Ky. His father left him a fortune. He immediately turned it over to his mother because he was full of romance and wanted to choose his own career. Now he is an actor and lives on what he earns. It is quite a feat, too, he says. A "sob sister" tried to get a story about him the other day, but he replied that he wasn't worth a story yet, which is very unusual for an actor. They drop out of sight quickly on Broadway. The famous personages of yesterday are never heard of, except as "I knew him when—" Wilson Mizner has not been seen for some months until the other day and he showed up looking quite thin. A lot of folk thought he was Bob Fitzsimmons. A few years ago Broadway buzzed with gossip about Fitz, Harry Thaw, Mungun Sulzer, Dummy Taylor, Patti and Laura Jenn Libbey. They are heard of no more now.

Society girls wearing sunbonnets! They did it the other night at a dance at the Hotel Majestic. It was something new and society must do the unusual, you know, else perish of ennui. They probably imagined that sunbonnets are very passe. Victor Murdock, the Kansas statesman, saw the sunbonnets and smiled. "Out in Kansas," he said, "there are a lot of women who cling to their sunbonnets. It would be unusual if they were anything else, perhaps. No, they do not tango or drink tea. They milk, scrub and sew and do other homely work—but a lot of them are furnishing the nation with stalwart young men that we may need some day."

The Poor House Down The Road

(By C. F. Sullivan)

Respectfully dedicated to the unfortunate inmates of the Scioto county infirmary.

In the County Poor House,
Sat a gray-haired man,
Telling his past history;
This is how it ran:
Once I'd money plenty,
Friends were legion then.
Everywhere you'd hear it said,
I was the best of men.
But the drinking habit
Got the best of me,
As it has for many more,
In this land of the free.
I drifted, drifted downward—
My wild oats I have sowed,
And now I am an inmate
Of the Poor House down the road.

CHORUS.

Over the road to the Poor House,
Here I am forced at last;
Dim are my hopes of the future,
Gone are the joys of the past;
Broken is my constitution,
The rest of my days will be passed
Just a few miles from Portsmouth,
In the Poor House down the road.

'Tis an old-time honored saying,
That pockets hold your friends,
But when they're empty quite, I'm sure,
Right there the friendship ends.

Money is the ruler
Of this great universe.
Prosperous and happy
Is he with well-filled purse.
Though you may be upright,
Filled many a place of trust,
The cruel world looks down on you
With leathery and disgust.

This has just been my case,
And now my last abode
Is just a few miles from Portsmouth
In the Poor House down the road.

NAKED, SHRIEKING MEN DASHED TO STREET ENVELOPED IN FLAMES

Disinfectant On Bodies of Prisoners In Jail At El Paso, Texas, Catches Fire From Match, Claiming Terrible Toll of 18 Dead and Many Injured---Uprising Threatened---Military Patrols Guard the Border

El Paso, Tex., March 7.—Eighteen persons are dead and a number of others are not expected to live, as the result of an explosion which occurred yesterday in the disinfectant bath room of the city jail. More than forty prisoners were in the bath room when the explosion took place. Nearly all of them suffered serious burns, nine dying almost instantly. A match ignited the vapors arising from the mixture of gasoline, kerosene and vinegar, in which the prisoners, mostly Mexicans, were bathed in conformity with sanitary measures devised by city health authorities to prevent the spread of disease. Flashes of flame flashed through the entire east wing of the prison, and almost immediately the street fronting the jail was filled with naked, shrieking men, undered in fire. A fire company housed in the jail building extinguished the flames. Guards and survivors declared that the explosion was caused by the lighting of a match by one of the prisoners. Civil and military authorities at Juarez, opposite here are searching for an unidentified Mexican who boarded a street car near the Juarez race track and shot the motorman, Charles Phelps, last night after a report was spread that two hundred Mexicans had been thrown into jail here and deliberately burned to death. Phelps is said to be fatally wounded.

The report that the explosion was the result of deliberate intention on the part of the Americans to kill Mexicans, caused great excitement in Juarez and heavy military patrols were sent out to suppress disorder. Twelve Americans are among those burned in the explosion.

SEVEN MEMBERS OF FAMILY CARVED AND SHOT TO DEATH

Lawton, Okla., March 7.—Seven members of the family of Dan O'Kane, a farmer were found murdered in their home, near here. Lawton himself lay beside the bedside of his father probably fatally shot. A negro hired man, discovered the bodies. The murderer had used a razor, a hammer, and a small calibre rifle. These were found on the floor. Nearby was a basin of water crimsoned with blood from the hands of the murderer. Those who were killed were O'Kane's wife, an infant, 4 children, ranging from four to ten years of age and O'Kane's aged father who lived with the family. The children were found in bed. Their throats had been slashed and their heads crushed. Mrs. O'Kane and the baby were shot to death. The rifle also had been used to slay the aged father. At an inquest today testimony tending to show that Daniel O'Kane killed the seven members of his family and then took his own life, was introduced before a coroner's jury.

Rutland, Vt., March 7.—The question whether state-wide prohibition beginning May 1, shall supplant the local option form of liquor selling which has been effective for thirteen years, was voted on at the annual town meeting in Vermont today. A large vote was expected. The legislature at its last session adopted a prohibitory amendment to the state constitution which was submitted to the people today by a referendum.

Kansas City, Mo., March 7.—Economy in England because of the war has reduced the price of eggs in America, according to speakers at the annual meeting of the Missouri Cattle Shippers Association here today. But England at war has become saving and in the last year has cut down its egg bill fifty million dollars.

STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS NUMBERED 117 FOR JANUARY

Washington, March 7.—January's strikes and lockouts numbered 117 and involved 168,000 men, according to figures by the department of labor. Most of the strikes were in the metal trades and grew out of demands for wage increases. The department reports most of the strikes settled by compromise with both sides claiming victory.

Man's Limitations. Man has been able to learn some things, but has forgotten many others. He has not added one sense to his senses, one limb to his limbs, one faculty to his soul. He has merely explored another region of the circle in which he is confined. The human mind is always in motion. It runs from one point to another. It seeks what it embraces and forgets what it has abandoned. It never manages to cultivate one part of its domain without leaving the others fallow. "The Inequality of the Human Races."

JUST ONE WORD FROM HANS WAGNER, IT WAS "THANKS"

About everybody known in baseball honored Hans Wagner in one way or another at the birthday party given the other night for him by the Pittsburgh Stone League.

One of the most eloquent tributes came from Judge Landis, the greatest friend of baseball. President Tener was expected to attend but for some reason did not put in an appearance at the feast. Over 300 sat down at the banquet table and as many presents were received, each carrying a real tribute to the greatest player in the game.

Hans, when called on for his speech, said: "Thanks. I feel like the fellow on third base when a run was needed and his team couldn't hit—I want to steal home."

It will keep the athletes moving all the time to keep in shape and will give them an opportunity to win laurels of some not for their alma mater.

The schedule as arranged, follows:

Says Braves Of Course

Now that Ed Konechky, the first baseman, has been signed by the Boston Braves he can see no other team with a chance for the pennant next season except the Braves. Of course, it wouldn't be good policy for Ed to think otherwise, and the Braves will hope that his prediction will turn out better than one he made after being signed by the Pirates for the 1914 season.

A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

James Ball Naylor, media, historian, novelist, poet and journalist, writing in the Marion Star, suggests that a good topic for discussion by the rural debating societies or the village literary club, would be: "What Word, of All Words in Common Use, Is Most Frequently Mispronounced?" Acting as arbiter and judge, without warrant and prior to argument submitted, he proceeds to award the palm to "arctic," nearly always pronounced "artic," while close seconds would be "culinary" often pronounced "culinary," "a-e-ro-plane" wrongly "air-o-plane," "ac-climate" usually "ac-limate," "cupola" generally "cupolo," "cal-li-ope" universally "cal-li-ope" and "ex-cursion" as a rule "ex-cur-zhun."

Now, we haven't any desire to engage in debate or contention with this distinguished literati, being just a plain newspaper man myself, but we do both presume and assume to differ from him at one or two points. The most frequently mispronounced word is "finance." Thus so because it is used something like a million times to one of the learned Doctor's entry, "arctic." Finance is invariably pronounced "fy-nance," with the accent on the first syllable, when correctly it is "fe-nance," with the accent on the last syllable and the "i" in the first as soft as tongue can make it. Ranking equal with "finance" in persistency or commonality of mispronunciation, but not so often used, is "fidelity." In this word the first "i" is soft and the accent is on the second syllable; ever though the "i" takes on its full sound and the accent is placed on the first syllable, making the word mistakenly "fy-delity." Further we can not find ourselves in accord with the pronunciation stated for "cal-li-ope." For it is not "cal-li-ope," neither is it "cal-li-ope," but the nearest that can be rendered in type, "k'l-li-o-pe." At least that is the way they sound it down on the Mississippi, if you can almost exterminate the first "a" and turn the last one soft, with a sort of puff, a sort of cross between a soft "a" and an aspirated "u." We give the Mississippi river pronunciation the preference as authoritative because it was on that stream the infernal butcher of both harmony and melody reached its pristine fiendishness.

But here is a proposition, we wish to put up to James Ball Taylor for decision on his superior scholarship: We have made certain assertions as to pronunciation of finance and fidelity, according to Worcester, because we hold him to be the best authority on pronunciation and spelling, but what does he count against universal acceptance or usage? The English speech knows no arbitrary and fixed rules, it is molded from generation to generation by custom, and custom, while it lasts is the law. So if a hundred and ninety-eight of our associates say "fy-nance" and "fy-delity," why should he and we, professing a greater respect for Worcester and Webster, say they are wrong and it should be "fa-nance" and "fadel-i-ty."

There used to be a doctor, who claimed he could cure any disease, if he could throw the patient into fits. The great Cincinnati Enquirer seems to be operating on a diametrical principle, believing it can kill anything if it can but throw it into free canal tolls and non-intervention in Mexico.

The underground report is the recalcitrant councilmen have "gone and seen a light" on the motorization of the fire department. Now if they would go further and see a brighter light that would point the way to creating fire zones in the city all might be well.

Having fussed and flustered around and about for four days March settled down to real respectable conduct. We are not hazarding any prediction how long she'll behave, however.

Reading the society column, as we plead guilty to doing once in a while, we conclude that some youths of good judgment know where to come to get the right helpmate.

Senator Root is said to have acute presidential aspirations, but he's big enough at that to stand by the president.

EXASPERATING

GIVEN SOME RESPECT

At a public lunch room, Saturday, several gentlemen fell to discussing the action of President Wilson in forcing to a vote of confidence, or a lack of it, in the position of his administration on the rights of Americans on the high seas. From that they passed to an animated debate on the question of preparedness, the majority taking a rather lugubrious view, at least one of them thought, on the present inability of this nation to cope with invasion by foreign foe.

It is both cheering and interesting to find that at the identical time, there was going out to the world an opinion of moment, that was directly in contravention of so gloomy an outlook. This opinion was an article, written by Herr Naumann, a member of the German Reichstag, for the Schleswig Heimblatt, and cabled from Copenhagen. In this article, Herr Naumann, warning of the consequences of possible war with America uses this language:

"America's fleet would be placed at the side of England's, increasing the possibility of an absolute, effective blockade. General recruiting within six months would produce a formidable American army."

"German ships in American harbors would be lost. America's daily increasing financial power would mean an inevitable prolongation of the war, because America could finance the allies for an unlimited period."

"We cannot shut our eyes to the endless sacrifices a possible war with the United States demands."

It is a happy thought, with such administration to our national pride, that Herr Naumann, is discussing a theory and not a probability. For notwithstanding differences we have with Germany about the rightful operations of submarines, the last thing desired is any actual clash with her. The strength of Woodrow Wilson with the great masses of the people today, is not only the confidence but the entire conviction that he will not only use every honorable endeavor to keep us out of war, but that he will succeed. We reiterate, the people do not want war, and in this country when the people do not want a thing and have a president with the tact, patience, strength and courage that Woodrow Wilson has developed that thing is not and can not be forced upon them.

Both sides are conducting the war on the same basis. Tifis was vastly important until it fell, then it was of no consequence; Verdun is "the key to Paris." Should it fall it would immediately become not so much as the opening in the key ring.

The fellow who always sees the gloomy side says, it would be all right this estimate of five birds to each person, were it not that most of the birds are English sparrows.

Those Bavarians will have to look to their laurels, the Brandenegers are coming to the front.

TALES OUT OF RHYME

The unvarying practice of the press is to doory Mexicans as intent. We sometimes wonder if this is because of a failure to put into effect our boasted opposite qualities, or a careless pandering to public prejudice. We can not admit, of course, that Mexico has reached a development in material or mental development that compares favorably with our standards thereon, but that she has made progress in modern conception thereof, considerable progress, may be possible. It would seem so anyway, when we read of the rather remarkable armies, recruited by one Francis Villa and the campaigns he carried on with them. And if we may develop a thought, suggested, by an official Carranza report, the provision and providence manifested in the organization and equipment of those armies is not only conclusive that Villa was a brilliant military genius, but that his people have unusual adaptability and ability. For according to this report, when the Carranzistas made their last successful issue with the Villanistas their capture included besides seven thousand prisoners, a quantity of field guns of strictly modern design and calibre, horses, arms and vast stores of ammunition, three a-e-ro-planes—be careful of the pronunciation of this word—and a generous supply of ambulance and hospital stores and equipment. Altogether it is clear that Villa's forces were not a vast mob of marauders and pillagers, but a trained body of soldiers, armed and equipped with an efficiency that was altogether commendable and also quite astounding to us, who are altogether too prone to regard the Mexican with contempt.

One thing showing the world has grown better, a great deal better, is the almost total disappearance of the coarse, brutal valentine.

The condition of several distinguished gentleman about Washington, today, may be described as sweating blood.

The Ohio supreme court has caught up with its docket. Another instance of a new broom sweeping clean.

And just think of it, the palm beach suit will soon be trying to do the come back act.

When Lillian Russell says she "never was married to a man who gave her money without asking for it," that, according to a contemporary, is the denunciation of an expert.

Some observant fellow sneers it is no wonder money talks since there is a woman's face on the coin.

The best way to be happy is to try to make some one else happy.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, March 7.—Three hundred members of the Dutch Treat Club have seen the first production on any stage of James Montgomery Flagg's entrance (l. c.) into the field of illegitimate drama. It is a seaisick drama and one critic cursed the show so loudly that the curtain fell in a faint at Delmonico's, where it was perpetrated.

The office of a newspaper was taken as the subject for symbolic representation and therefore the scene was laid on the deck of a ship. This subtle touch was no doubt due to the fact that there was an old "Pinafore" set leaning around with nothing to do.

The name of the play was "The Breath of Scandal; or The Mistress of the Seas." Howard Chandler Christy took the part of Scandal; Herb Roth of Crime; Robert Wildhack of Sporting Page and Fournaine Fox of Advertising Fake.

The song hit of the opera was, "I Didn't Raise My Flagg to be a Goldberg." It went like this:

"I didn't raise my Flagg to be a Goldberg;
I wanted him to draw like Roth and Brown,
Like Christy, Irvin, Morgan, Gould and Wildhack.
So he could sell his stuff to Charley Towne.

But all he ever learned to draw was wags—

They pay him eighty thousand every week,
His drawings look like hell,
But the paper thinks they're swell,
So they've gone and made my little Flagg a Goldberg."

Jimmie Marshall is from Louisville, Ky. His father left him a fortune. He immediately turned it over to his mother because he was full of romance and wanted to choose his own career. Now he is an actor and lives on what he earns. It is quite a feat, too, he says. A "sob sister" tried to get a story about him the other day, but he replied that he wasn't worth a story yet, which is very unusual for an actor.

They drop out of sight quickly on Broadway. The famous personages of yesterday are never heard of, except as "I knew him when—" Wilson Mizer has not been seen for some months until the other day and he showed up looking quite thin. A lot of folk thought he was Rob Fitzsimmons. A few years ago Broadway buzzed with gossip about Fitz, Hurry Thaw, Mauryon Sulzer, Duminy Taylor, Patti and Laura Jean Libbey. They are heard of no more now.

Society girls wearing sunbonnets! They did it the other night at a dance at the Hotel Majestic. It was something new and society must do the unusual, you know, else perish of ennui. They probably imagine that sunbonnets are very passe. Victor Murdock, the Kansas statesman, saw the sunbonnets and smiled.

"Out in Kansas," he said, "there are a lot of women who cling to their sunbonnets. It would be unusual if they wore anything else, perhaps. No, they do not tango or drink tea. They milk, scrub and sew and do other homely work—but a lot of them are furnishing the nation with stalwart young men that we may need some day."

Frank H. Sommer, a newsboy on the streets of Newark less than twenty-five years ago, and later an errand boy in New York, has just been elected by the council of the New York University to be dean of its law school. He at one time studied at night in the institution of which he has become the head.

PORTSMOUTH REPUBLICANS PLAN A BIG CROWD FOR JACKSON TRIP

The Republicans of Portsmouth are planning to take at least a hundred people, besides the members of a brass band to Jackson, Thursday evening, March 16, to attend the big "Let's Go" banquet, which will be held at the Commodore Hotel. A meeting of the committee on arrangements was held Monday night at the office of St. Andrew's Church, when the various guarantee lists recently circulated by the committee were filed. It was found that over fifty had already signed their intentions of attending the banquet.

It was reported that a large delegation from the Whitehouse-Gleason Glass company and the Norfolk and Western Terminals were preparing to make the trip. Other large industrial plants will be represented. John F. Eckhart, chairman of the committee on arrangements, is quite enthusiastic over the growing reports of those expecting to make the trip. "At first," he said, "we planned for fifty or sixty, including the members of a local band. But now it looks like one hundred strong."

Last week several of the Seaboard county Republicans received personal invitations from the committee, which is composed of the following well-known Jackson business men: E. B. Mathews, A. E. Shattuck, J. E. Sylvester, D. D. Evans, Peter Radloff, and many have mailed their acceptance to the committee direct, instead of notifying the local committee. Several are also expected to decide to make the trip at the last minute.

Recently, Mr. Mathews informed Mr. Eckhart that the Jackson Republicans were preparing to care for just as large a delegation from the Portsmouth contingent in royal style," said Mr. Mathews.

Besides the promises of one of those famous Jackson dinners, and feasts, the address of the evening will probably be the most interesting of the coming campaign.

The opening guns of the Republican campaign are expected to be fired at this meeting.

Among the speakers will be Governor Frank R. Willis, Hon. Myron T. Herriot, Cleveland Republican candidate for United States senator and former ambassador to France, and Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, leader in Ohio Republicanism, also a candidate for the United States senatorship, will discuss the salient features of their individual campaigns. Hon. Robert M. Switzer, congressman from the Sixth district; Hon. D. D. Woodmansee, prominent business man of Cincinnati; Hon. Warren G. Harding, United States senator; and Hon. Theo. E. Burton, candidate for the Republican nomination for president, will all be there with some interesting and instructive information for all Republicans.

Besides the "feast of reason," there will be different forms of amusement provided for the trip. Several unique stunts will be "pulled off" by Frank Stanton. All will prove exciting, and those accompanying the local delegation are promised a pleasant and instructive evening.

The committee expects all Republicans desiring to make the trip to notify John F. Eckhart, Mission Temple, immediately so that reservations can be made.

LOCAL FIRM TO HANDLE STOCK

Mark A. Crawford returned from a short business trip to St. Louis Sunday where he attended the organization meeting of the Newkirk Blue Flag Rail and Appliance company, a concern recently incorporated under the laws of Colorado to manufacture the Newkirk "Blue Flag Derrailer," an invention of W. P. Newkirk, yardmaster of the local Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Mr. Crawford stated Monday that the McClure and Crawford brokerage firm would have charge of selling the stock.

While at St. Louis Mr. Crawford stated that he spent a few hours with Mr. and Mrs. Branch Riskey, former residents of this city. Mr. Riskey is in the "business department" of the St. Louis American Baseball company.

DOG WAS AFFLICTED WITH RABIES; VICTIM GIVEN PASTEUR TREATMENT

of Friendship, regarding the examination of the canine's head. The little boy has been brought to the William Bolles' home at Friendship in order to make it more convenient for giving him the Pasteur treatment twice daily.

He was bitten on the arm by the dog which belonged to William Brown. The boy is reported doing as well as could be expected. Twenty-five or more dogs of the neighborhood were bitten by the Brown dog. These have been kept isolated by the owners, pending the report from the examination of the head. Constable Ford Lavender acting upon instructions from the township trustees began the work Monday of exterminating them.

ROBBERS RAID BOILER WORKS; LOOT IS SMALL

Robbers ransacked the Runyan boiler works office and plant, located at Seventeenth and Chillicothe streets, from one end to the other, some time Monday night.

Five dollars in small change which was kept in a steel deposit box of the office safe was taken and the box along with it.

Cigarette stumps found on the floor of the stock room where brass and other material is kept, evidenced the fact that the robbers had also visited that department and it will require an inventory to determine whether or not anything was taken there. The drawers of the office desks and the safe were removed and their contents strewn about in topsyturvy state.

The robbery was discovered by Howard M. Runyan, manager of the concern, upon reaching the plant Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. A peculiar feature of the robbery is that the robbers unlocked the office door in entering and locked it when leaving. Mr. Runyan finding the door locked when he arrived Tuesday morning, the police were promptly notified and are now investigating.

INDIANA HOLDING PRIMARY

Indianapolis, Ind., March 7.—Indiana is today holding its first state-wide preferential primary in one of the most spirited campaigns ever conducted in the state.

The voters are showing their preferences for candidates for president, vice president, United States senator, governor, members of congress, members of the state legislature and for county offices and are electing precincting committeemen and delegates to the state conventions.

President Wilson has no opposition in Indiana in his race for renomination on the Democratic ticket. Vice President Thomas R. Marshall also has no opponent in the primary.

Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States, is the only person seeking the Republican nomination for president in this state. There is no candidate for the Republican nomination for vice president on the ballot. The primary law provides that the choice of the voters in the primary shall be supported in the national conventions.

LABOR UNIONS PLAN FOR A WEEK OF CELEBRATION

Use of Millbrook park for Labor Day week has been granted to the Central Labor Council, an announcement of this character being made Monday evening at the semi-monthly meeting of this organization.

"We are planning not only to hold one of the greatest Labor Day celebrations the city has ever seen on Monday, September 4, but we are going in for a week of it and the festivities will take place in Millbrook," J. W. Burdick, secretary of the Central Labor Council, stated after last night's meeting.

William Ahlstrom is chairman of the Labor Day committee and it will get busy right away booking concessions and attractions for Labor Day Week in Portsmouth.

E. A. Dorrough of the House-shoers' Union and C. A. Wishon of the Engineers' Union were obligated at last night's meeting. It was stated that practically all of the signmakers of Portsmouth had taken out union cards.

It was also announced that steps would be taken to organize the firemen of the city into a branch of the Federal Union, a movement of this character having long been contemplated by the Central Labor Council.

In the absence of President Louis Herder, who continues ill, George Bruck presided at the meeting.

OWLS WILL GIVE DANCE TONIGHT

Royal Nest No. 1316 Order of Owls held an interesting meeting at their hall, Fifth and Chillicothe streets, Monday evening, and made final arrangements for the Sixth Annual Pacht Nacht dance, which will be given at the Kendall hall, Tuesday evening, March 7. The music will be furnished by Spitzer's orchestra.

A neat little program has been prepared by the committee in charge, which is composed of C. R. Bickel, Charles Barr, John Knost, Chas. Hartman, Fred Goltz and William Englebrecht. It is expected that several hundred will attend. Quite a neat sum of money was cleared from the picture "The Life of an Owl" which was shown at several of the local theatres recently. The committee, Lee Ferguson, Geo. Schroeder and J. A. Haug was discharged with a vote of thanks.

On March 20, the local Nest will confer the ceremonies of initiation upon a class of candidates. A banquet and smoker will follow the ritualistic exercises.

Workman Tumbles; Two Ribs Broken

William Shipps residing at 1801 Jackson street suffered the fracture of two ribs on his right side in a singular manner while at work as a car repairer at the N. & W. shops in East Portsmouth Monday afternoon.

A fellow workman and he were using a wrench to pull up a door of a car, and when the wrench slipped Shipps, who was standing on the door, lost his balance and fell, his body striking the winding shaft used to pull up the door. Shipps was removed to his home, and Dr. Walter Daehler was called. An examination showed that Shipps had two ribs broken and was bruised about the head and shoulders.

Sensation Coming?

There is a near sensation in the ranks of Vienna Camp Sons of Veterans. At the meeting in Selby (O. A. R.) hall this Tuesday evening, stated charges will be preferred against three or four

New Rifle Squad To Elect Officers

Major General W. H. Sletzer, of Cleveland, who was to have mustered out the old Uniformed Rank of Tent No. 494, Knights of the Macabees, at their regular meeting Monday night, failed to arrive, so the exercises were postponed indefinitely. In the meantime the new Rifle Squad, which will succeed the Uniformed Rank, will hold a meeting Thursday evening at the home of George Floyd, No. 1821 Twelfth street, where the election of officers will be made.

William Arzareth, Ralph Campbell, John Winkler and Otto Davis were conducted through the intricate mysteries of the order in fitting solemnity. Three applications were favorably balloted upon. The ceremonies of initiation will be conferred upon the newly elected members at the next regular meeting. The candidates are: William Robertson, R. E. Seever and Ora Craigmiller.

On Monday evening, March 13, the lodge will entertain with a "Home Coming." An effort will be made to have every member of the order present. A banquet, a smoker and a good old-fashioned campfire talk. Great Commander Ed. J. Young, Wapakoneta, O., will be present. It is expected that 500 will attend.

PORTER CUT, IDENTITY OF KNIFE USER IS UNKNOWN

Charles, better known as "Kitty" Collins, aged 35, a colored porter, employed at Julius Arbogast's saloon, was the victim of a mysterious cutting affray Monday night at ten o'clock.

Collins was slashed across the back of the neck but the wound did not prove to be serious, as first reports had it. Collins immediately repaired to the home of his brother-in-law, Dr. E. W. Hubert, of No. 1019 Findlay street, who sewed up his wounds, and Tuesday morning found him back at his work as usual.

Police officers who investigated the affray were unable to learn the identity of Collins' assailant. He himself refused to discuss the trouble it was said, but the officers have their suspicions as to who the knife user was. Collins when asked by The Times Tuesday morning said a colored man named John Smith, had cut him, the attack following a kid-ding match they had had in Fifteenth street. Chief of Police Clark expects to personally investigate the case.
